Mahoning Granges Pick Prince, Princess

Lois Beardsley

Lee Wisler

Lee Wisler, 17, (Goshen Grange) and Lois Beardsley, 15, (Greenford Grange) were chosen prince and princess of Mahoning County Granges when approximately 200 persons arrived at Smith Grange hall, a previously unknown destination, after a "Mystery Ride" Wednesday evening.

Lee is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Wisler of RD 4, Salem, and Lois is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Beardsley of RD 5, Salem.

Alternates were Don Capel, 16, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Capel of RD 4, Salem, and Esther Manchester, 20, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Manchester of Canfield.

The granges represented were Goshen, Garfield, Smith, Milton, Poland, Ellsworth, Dublin, Greenford and North Lima. Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Courtney of Sebring are deputy masters of Mahoning County.

The prince and princess will represent Mahoning County at the State Grange Convention in 1952, when a pageant will be presented in which the prince and princess sent by each county will participate. From among these representatives, a prince and princess will be drawn, and they will reign during the 1952 State Convention.

Single grange members between the ages of 14 and 30 are eligible to participate in the program. Several poems were read, games, square dancing and lunch concluded the program Wednesday evening.

Navy Orders Atomic Engine For Big Ships

Motor Would Make 100,000 Mile Cruises Possible

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States, reporting progress on atomic-powered submarines and aircraft, today launched a new project: development of giant atomic-powered warships.

The Atomic Energy Commission announced it had asked the Westinghouse Electric Company to develop an atomic engine capable of propelling "large vessels such as aircraft carriers."

This immediately revived speculation that atom-powered battlewagons and giant commercial liners like the Queen Mary and the USS United States could easily make 100,000 mile cruises at top speed — and without refueling.

Equals 1,500, Tons Coal

Such estimates are based on the fact that a pound of fissionable uranium or its titanic twin, plutonium, could generate as much power as 1,500 tons of coal or 200,000 gallons of fuel oil.

The AEC's announcement came only a few hours after release of its 12th semi-annual report to Congress in which the commission reported progress on the development of nuclear-powered aircraft and on two different types of atomic engines for submarines.

Believes Success Assured

The fact that AEC awarded the contract for the large vessel atomic engine project to Westinghouse indicates it believes that at least one submarine engine project is definitely assured of success.

This appears likely because Westinghouse is building an atomic submarine engine at the AEC's land-locked site in Arco, Idaho, which is scheduled to be installed in the Navy's projected atomic submarine, the USS Nautilus.

Evidently the Navy, too, has no doubts that the engine will work, because the service has already laid the keel of the Nautilus.

Meanwhile, another projected atomic submarine engine is being

Man Attacks Lisbon Lawyer; To Be Examined

LISBON—A Lisbon restaurant owner will be taken to Youngstown Receiving Hospital today for an examination after an attack on a Lisbon attorney late Thursday morning.

Emerson Wingrove, about 45, owner of Crook's Restaurant on S. Market St., agreed to the examination voluntarily at a hearing this morning before Probate Judge Louis Tobin.

Wingrove was arrested about noon Thursday after he entered the office of Attorney Charles Pike and attacked him with a glass bookend. While the two were fighting, Ed Heim and William White, who were passing the office, heard a commotion and entered the office and stopped the fight.

Wingrove fled after the battle but was picked up by police a few minutes later in his apartment. Pike, who is also city solicitor, filed an assault charge against his attacker. A hearing on the charge has been delayed until Wingrove is released from the hospital.

The restaurant proprietor was in a fracas June 30 and was charged with assault with a deadly weapon after he attacked a Lisbon man with a blackjack. Mayor Wilbur Warren of Lisbon delayed the sentence at the time in order to give Wingrove 90 days to sell his business.

No apparent reason was given for the attack on Attorney Pike.

Flying Saucers Pain Air Force

General Infers Reports Becoming Nuisance

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Air Force didn't exactly say so but it left the impression those flying saucers are becoming quite a nuisance.

So much time is being spent answering saucer queries that it is interfering with regular intelligence work, Maj. Gen. John A. Samford, Air Force Intelligence director, said yesterday.

Most of the inquiries are from press and radio. Many are from worried or curious citizens. The Pentagon press office has an officer working full time answering saucer questions.

Perhaps just to show how busy it is, the Air Force released a long list of statistics revealing it had received 432 written reports on "sightings of unidentified aerial phenomena" so far this year. All these went to the Air Technical Intelligence Center at Dayton, Ohio. They don't include the hundreds of oral reports of sightings.

The Air Force statistics appeared to explode the theory that the recent flurry of saucers was caused by the heat. The peak of sightings over the years seemed to hit at no particular season or month.

At least the figures showed the saucer business is booming in 1952.

The largest number of sightings of any month since the saucers were first reported in 1947 came in July of this year—a total of 114, just three above June.

Coast Guard Photo Shows Aerial Lights

WASHINGTON (AP)—Coast Guard headquarters today made public a photograph of "unidentified aerial phenomena" taken by a 21-year-old Coast Guard photographer.

The photo clearly shows four round objects. Each appears to have two identical shafts of light extending across its center and protruding at the forward and rear ends. The lights are in a "V" formation.

The Coast Guard said it has no opinion as to the cause or source of the "objects" and was releasing the picture only because of the widespread public interest in aerial phenomena.

The picture was snapped by Shell R. Alpert, Salem, Mass., air station photographer. The Coast Guard said Alpert sighted several brilliant white lights through the air station's photo lab window at 9:35 a. m., July 16.

Alpert watched the lights, which "seemed to be wavering," for five or six seconds before attempting to photograph them. By the time he had focused his camera the lights were "considerably dimmed down."

Bike License Sale Lags At Deadline

Only 504 bicycle licenses or renewals have been issued so far this year out of an estimated 1,100, Robert Rheutan, City Hall clerk, said today.

Thursday was the deadline for the purchase of new tags or renewals and cyclists who haven't secured their new licenses may not operate their bicycles in the city until they do, he said.

The tags went on sale here July 1, with cyclists given until Aug. 1 to renew their licenses or buy new ones.

Record List Of Dixie Papers Support Ike

ATLANTA, (AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower will have the editorial support of more newspapers than ever before backed a Republican presidential nominee in the traditionally Democratic South.

An Associated Press survey of nearly 100 papers in 11 Southern states showed today that 41 have endorsed the general or will do so and past performance indicates several in the "undecided" list will go to him.

Paradoxically, however, this does not mean that editors of the area are much more opposed to the 1952 Democratic candidate, Adlai Stevenson, than they were to President Truman when he ran in 1948. Four years ago the anti-New Deal-anti-Fair Deal sentiment was divided between Thomas Dewey, the GOP nominee, and Strom Thurmond, choice of the States' Righters and these two men drew more editorial page endorsements than Truman. That year, 24 of the papers surveyed were for Dewey, 22 for Thurmond.

At this early stage in the campaign, only 22 papers have come out for Stevenson and Sen. John Sparkman, the Democrats' vice presidential nominee from Alabama. In 1948, 35 of those questioned this year were lined up for Truman. Presumably, Stevenson's total will approach that.

July '52 Proves Second Hottest

1949 Month Set Mark; Rain Far Below Normal

The past month has been the second warmest July ever recorded in this area, L. H. Copeland, Millport weather observer, disclosed today.

A record mean temperature of 75.7 was set in July of 1949 as compared with 74.6 last month. In July of 1951, the mean temperature was 70.4 degrees. The coolest July was in 1924 when 66.8 degrees was recorded.

Copeland said that the mercury soared to 100 degrees at Millport on July 28, the second time this summer that a temperature of 100 was reported. On June 26 of this year, the district baked under a sizzling 100-degree reading.

Rainfall in the area for July totaled 2.50 inches which is far below the normal precipitation of 4.30. The driest July was in 1914 with 1.42 inches of rain, while the wettest July was the 10.15 inches of 1941. Rain in July of 1951 came to 4.63 inches. But despite the lack of rain in July, the year is ahead of normal precipitation by 2.08 inches.

A bumper hay crop was harvested, but the second crop was almost a failure. The wheat and oats crops were below normal. Copeland said that plenty of moisture was badly needed for district corn, potatoes and pastures.

Copeland predicted lower temperatures and more rainfall for August.

Big Blonde Named Miss Ohio Of 1952

PAINESVILLE, O. (AP)—Miss Ohio, 1952, is a big blonde beauty from Bolivar—Miss Carol Koonitz, who will be 19 the 25th of this month.

The Tuscarawas County girl, entered as "Miss Dennison," won over nine other Ohio District beauty queens in a judging Thursday night before a crowd of about 1,000 at nearby Mentor-On-The-Lake.

These are the vital statistics on blue-eyed Carol, who will represent Ohio next month in the Miss America contest at Atlantic City: Height: Five feet, nine and one-half inches.

Weight: 139 pounds. Waist: 25 inches. Bust: 35 inches. Hips: 35 inches.

A mail clerk for Timken Roller Bearing Co. in Canton, where her father, Walter, is a chemist, the new Miss Ohio is a good enough clarinet player to hold a place in the New Philadelphia Orchestra. She also plays piano and her favorite hobby is ballet dancing.

Only one point behind in the judging was Pat Moats, a Circleville brunette.

Prosperity Based On Peace Urged By Nixon

TAKE COVER!—That's Joe there, at lower left. You can't see his face because he's "eating dirt"—he's got his mug shoved tight against the ground. Mike, next to him, looks apprehensively over his shoulder. Jake, back against the sandbag barricade, just hunches up and covers his face with his helmet. The other guys crouch and squeeze into any little corner that will give them protection. This remarkable picture shows what happened when the Chinese Communists poured a mortar barrage on a group of Second U. S. Division infantrymen who took cover in a shallow, sand-bagged pit on the ridgeline facing "Old Baldy," near Chorwon, Korea.

3 Reds Downed By U. N. Planes

Infantry Recaptures Hill With Bayonets

SEOUL, Korea (AP)—The U. S. Fifth Air Force said United Nations pilots shot down three Communist jets and damaged two over North Korea today as clearing weather brought renewed intensity to the war.

The U. S. Eighth Army says bayonet-wielding allied infantrymen recaptured the crest of Old Baldy hill in a bloody eight-hour fight on the Western Front.

The Russian-made MIG-15 jets were shot down in the first all-jet battle since July 23. Planes from a flight of 32 U. S. Sabre jets battled elements of more than 60 MIGs for more than 10 minutes near the Korea-Manchuria border.

Allied losses, if any, were not reported.

75 Planes Added

In Tokyo, Gen. O. P. Weyland, commanding general of the U. S. Far East Air Forces, announced the addition of about 75 sleek F84 Thunderjet fighter-bombers to U. N. air strength for action over Korea.

A monthly Air Force summary reported that the Communists lost 32 planes in July, the United Nations, 19.

Supported by fighter bombers and artillery fire, Allied doughboys stormed Old Baldy from two sides Thursday night. By dawn Friday, they had forced an estimated 200 Chinese Reds down its mud-caked slopes and immediately began digging in.

Rain Held Up Fighting

Recapture of the strategic outpost west of Chorwon marked the first intense ground fighting since last Saturday, the first of six days of heavy rain.

The surprise Allied pincer movement on Old Baldy came just 10 days after a Chinese battalion seized the barren crest. It followed the Thursday visit to the sector by Gen. James Van Fleet, U. S. Eighth Army commander.

Eighth Army headquarters said the crest was secured at 9 a. m. but Communist big guns sprayed U. N. positions for hours afterward and the Reds were reported bringing up reinforcements in the afternoon.

Associated Press Correspondent Milo Farneti reported from the front that Allied fighter bombers swooped in on Chinese positions all morning. A frontline officer said Chinese sniper and mortar fire hampered evacuation of Allied dead and wounded.

U. N. soldiers took advantage of the light from a half-moon to break the Reds' hold on the hill which has been the object of bitter fighting for a month.

3 Ohio Children Die Of Polio; Cases Mount

AKRON, O. (AP)—Three children died of polio in Northeastern Ohio today, and the number of cases in the area continued to mount.

The dead: Thomas Corbin, 8, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Corbin of Mineral Ridge in Tuscarawas County, in Youngstown St. Elizabeth's Hospital; Janice Alderfer, 9, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John F. Alderfer of Wadsworth in Medina County, Akron Children's Hospital; Thomas Koons, 6, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Koons of Sullivan in Ashland County, in Children's Hospital.

Crucible and the CIO United Steelworkers signed a temporary agreement yesterday which will result in the company's 14,000 employees returning to their jobs immediately.

The agreement is similar to the strike-ending pact which the union and the nation's six biggest steel companies agreed upon last week. It provides an average 21-cent an hour pay boost for men now getting nearly $2 an hour.

Crucible's contract continues to provide a union shop whereby all new employees must join and remain members of the union. The steelworkers' contract with the "Big Six" provides a modified union shop which permits new employees to withdraw from the union between the 15th and 30th day of employment.

Although the steelworkers' union reached a strike-ending agreement with the "Big Six" companies it now is negotiating a complete contract. Negotiating sessions are underway with U. S. Steel and other firms. Such things as management rights, seniority and incentive pay rate procedure are being worked out. There was no report of progress from yesterday's first meeting with U. S. Steel and it was indicated the sessions may be lengthy.

Meanwhile, the union is negotiating contracts with some firms

Ike Will Make Tough Campaign, Ohio GOP Told

Nixon Tells State Convention Taft "Great In Defeat"

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Republican Sen. Richard M. Nixon of California opened his vice presidential campaign last night with a call for prosperity based on peace and honest government.

The running mate of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower delivered a fighting speech to a cheering state Republican convention. And he told an overflow audience in the 2,845-seat Palace Theater that Ike will be a fighting candidate for president "right down to election day."

Ike was more determined than ever about that, Nixon said, "after he heard what the Democrats in the Chicago convention were saying about him."

First Political Speech

It was the 39-year-old Nixon's first political speech since his nomination July 11. He flew here from Dallas, Tex., and left for Denver, Colo., conferences with Eisenhower today and Saturday.

Sharing the speaking program at the one-day convention were Arthur E. Summerfield of Michigan, the party's new national chairman; Sen. John W. Bricker of Ohio, nominee for re-election; and Charles P. Taft of Cincinnati, gubernatorial nominee and brother of Sen. Robert A. Taft.

Nixon, whose father came from Vinton County, Ohio, told Ohio Republicans still smarting over Sen. Taft's loss of the presidential nomination to Eisenhower, that Taft was "even greater in defeat than in victory."

Hard To Enjoy Privileges

Nixon said it was hard for Americans to enjoy their privileges and liberties while "our boys" are fighting and dying overseas.

"Why not prosperity built on peace rather than prosperity built on war?" he asked. "Why not prosperity and honest government in Washington at the same time?"

Nixon, who spoke without a prepared text, termed the Democratic presidential nominee a "captive candidate" of the CIO, big city bosses and President Truman.

"Despite his good intentions, and I do not question his good intentions," Nixon said, "Gov. Adlai Stevenson is a captive candidate."

"He is Jack Kroll's man. He is Jake Arvey's man and the man of all the other big city machines. He is Harry Truman's man."

30 Traffic Mishaps Occur Here In July

Thirty traffic accidents, one resulting in injury to one person, were investigated by police during July, Chief Nerr Gaunt's monthly report reveals.

Of the mishaps, 25 were two-car accidents; four, auto-fixed object and one, auto-pedestrian. The injury was the result of a two-car collision.

Police made 25 arrests during the month: 11, intoxication; seven, reckless operation; three, disorderly conduct; two, drunken driving; and one each, assault and battery, and failure to display auto license plates.

Eight petit larceny cases were investigated, one of auto theft and one, breaking and entering.

Police issued 190 tickets during July and received 1,149 telephone calls, 306 of which entailed investigation.

Ike Strength In South Admitted

Sen. Long Says He'll Back Dem Candidates

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Russell B. Long of Louisiana today pledged his support for the regular Democratic presidential ticket today but said Republican nominee Dwight D. Eisenhower could crack the Solid South.

"I like that (Democratic) ticket and I'm going to be for it," Long told a reporter. Gov. Adlai Stevenson of Illinois and Sen. John Sparkman of Alabama head the ticket as nominees for president and vice president.

At the same time, Long, who staged one of the dramatic incidents at the recent Chicago convention, conceded that Republican presidential nominee Dwight D. Eisenhower "is a formidable candidate all over the United States—and that includes the South."

Asked if Eisenhower might crack the South, Long said:

"I think that Eisenhower stands a very good chance in several Southern states."

He refused to list them.

Long was the second Dixie senator to announce for the Stevenson-Sparkman ticket.

Sen. A. Willis Robertson of Virginia announced yesterday that he will "vote the straight Democratic ticket next November"—but was critical of the present administration.

Robertson contended that the new platform civil rights stand "is less threatening to the Southern viewpoint than the 1948 plank."

He added that Sparkman "felt so strongly about the Southern position civil rights legislation that he bolted the national ticket in 1948."

In a separate interview, Sparkman quickly explained:

"Technically, I did not bolt."

As a Senate candidate in 1948, Sparkman said he was pledged to support Alabama presidential electors who later joined in the States' Rights bolt. This gave him no chance as an Alabama Democrat to vote for Truman, he said, adding that in 1950 "I led a fight to restore party loyalty in Alabama."

Harry F. Byrd, senior senator and regarded as Virginia's most influential Democrat, usually treads the same political path as Robertson. But after Robertson's statement, Byrd quickly announced he was taking no stand on either presidential candidate at this time.

Long's promise of support for Stevenson and Sparkman was in line with his move at Chicago when he refused to join other Louisiana delegates in a walkout.

Putting his political future at stake, Long, who is the youngest senator—he will be 34 Nov. 3—announced he would stay in the convention even if he were the lone Louisiana delegate.

Heat, Humidity, HCL Makes July's Departure Welcome

By SAM DAWSON
NEW YORK — Most folk — in and out of business — will be glad to see August come.
July, for most, won no popularity contests.
Those terrible twins, heat and humidity, set records in many parts of the country. Disastrous droughts in many sections shriveled crops and threatened livestock. The effect on the cost of eating will show up in the grocery this fall.
Fear of a tin can shortage, due to the steel strike, had many canners predicting that some of this year's harvest of fruit and vegetables will be lost — and prices of canned goods may be higher next winter.
The cost of living hit a new high in July. And Washington officials predict you haven't seen anything yet. They think the aftermath of the steel strike, with its hike in prices, will send living costs still higher by year end.
The costly steel strike and six other big strikes spread idleness through many plants which had to close down for lack of materials. The Bureau of Labor Statistics says July saw many million man-days of work lost, the greatest strike-caused idleness since 1949. The loss in June was 14 million man-days. The loss in paychecks will be felt by many families for weeks to come.

Industrial production also suffered a big drop. The Federal Reserve Board predicts July output will be a low point for several years. It says its index, based on the 1935-39 average of 100, will drop to 93. This compares with 222 in February and 203 in June.
Business profits took a big drop in July, too, although this won't show up in figures until the financial statements are prepared at the end of September.
And the U. S. Treasury will take a drop in tax collections. As business profits sag, so does the hefty share that Uncle Sam takes out of them.

"Buddy"

Will Awards Dog $15,000, Cash, Home

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Oh, for the life of a dog.
One like Buddy's anyway. Buddy is a 9-year-old schnauzer who is heir to a home in the country and $15,000 to keep bones on his plate for life.
All this was left to Buddy by his master, Lho Oscar Thieme of Philadelphia, whose will was filed for probate today with the register of wills.
Thieme, an expert in the handling of estates, died July 23 at the age of 68. He wrote a will, May 15, 1951, which said in part:
"I will retire from business, which I have carried on for 40 years and move to a country residence near Philadelphia, which property I give outright, with all its furnishings, automobile and other contents to my faithful housekeeper, Miss Anna Stoll, with $15,000 in cash for living expenses and the care of my pet dog, Buddy, until his death."
Attorney William F. Kanuer said today Thieme had not been able to find the country house he wanted upon his retirement. But

Thieme took that into account, too, and added this clause to his will:
"Should I die before acquiring the country residence, then my faithful housekeeper shall receive another $15,000 for a modest home with a piece of ground not less than one-half acre in the country where my Buddy can roam around until his death."
Miss Stoll said she is glad to accept the custody of the dog and is perfectly willing to make a home for him in the country.

Says Change of Posture Helps The Snorer

Some time ago this column published a brief discussion of snoring and suggested that readers who had any suggestions might write in their experiences. Several did. G. M. D. writes:
"Tape across my mouth from side to side and extending an inch or two beyond each corner keeps my mouth closed all night and, I am told, has changed the loudest snorer in this part of the country into a reasonably quiet sleeper."
C. H. S. refers to a method for correcting this trouble by having the patient close his mouth before going to bed and pasting a piece of court-plaster over his mouth, about a quarter of an inch wide and an inch long. This, he says, has to be continued for about a month.
A lady writes that her husband was a snorer until she persuaded him to sleep without a pillow, which apparently solved the problem.
Another reader writes her husband was one of the noisiest snorers ever until she induced him to use two pillows. Now, she writes, "he is so quiet at night, I often listen to make sure he is still breathing." Another correspondent, K.T., also said two pillows stopped his snoring.
Finally, a lady who shall be nameless, writes: "My husband was a chronic disturber of my nightly peace by reason of his stentorian snoring. By multiplying and disposing his pillows under his head and shoulders his position while sleeping was changed. Thereafter he ceased to snore."
"This may not be a cure of anything, but it is related because it indicates that snoring may be due to faulty posture of the sleeper. Raising the head and shoulders by adding pillows may help but a few, but each one should experiment in the matter of the sleeping posture."
Since none of the treatments suggested are likely to be hazardous for any healthy snorer, readers who are so inclined are welcome to try them, though this writer guarantees neither the results nor the comfort.

Who Produces The Goods?

Roger L. Putnam, economic stabilizer of the United States, had to get in one more dirty dig at the steel industry before it went back into production.

In a letter to Ellis G. Arnall, director of price stabilization, Putnam charged that the steel industry had leveled a loaded gun at the government's head in order to get an unjustified price increase.

"I am deeply sorry," he declared, "that this exorbitant price increase, $5.20 a ton, had to be exacted from the American people in order to get assured uninterrupted production of the steel we need so desperately for our industrial life and for our national survival."

So much for Mr. Putnam.
U. S. Steel Corp., one of the six companies which participated in the wage dispute, reports that its increase in employment costs from the settlement of the dispute will reach $150 million a year at full operations; and that other costs forced up by the settlement will duplicate the employment-cost increase.

Against this total of $300 million, the corporation points out that more than two-thirds of the $5.20 increase in steel prices is conceded by government officials, themselves, to be justified by production costs which already had risen, plus increases in freight-rates.

Just why it is that the economic stabilizer feels called on to spread bitterness in the wake of a steel strike is not known. This is not a time for bitterness but for conciliation, to undo some of the damage which never should have been done.

It is a time for gestures like that of Republic Steel Corp., which is handing out vacation checks to workers who need money after their long strike against the company and have no need this year for any further vacations.

The idea persists, particularly in steel towns, that the people who make steel know more about their industry and their employees than the people who make political policy and economic animosity in Washington.

Problem For Philosophers

Since it is now the official credo that people who see flying saucers are not necessarily practical jokers, visionaries, or victims of mass suggestion, it may be admitted further that the flying-saucer situation calls for philosophy as well as science.

The most momentous thing which could materialize out of this phenomenon would be proof of life at some other place in the universe—life capable of developing some means of interplanetary communication.

If this proof were forthcoming, science would be wholly inadequate to the problem which would arise. The problem was revealed bluntly in a recent official statement that jet pilots were under orders to shoot down any craft which refused to obey a command to land.

Provided the jet pilots could transmit such a command and provided the command could be understood, why should it be assumed that failure to obey it should be a shooting offense? Would the presence of life somewhere else in the universe be an automatic reason for trying to destroy it?

Must universal war be accepted as the inevitable enlargement of international war if it turns out that the earth is neither the beginning nor the end of the populated universe?

Good Competitors

There is apparent agreement among other athletes at Helsinki that the Russian competitors in the Olympic games are not reflecting the irreconcilable bias which has given Russian competitors in other fields a bad name.

At a time when good news is hard to find, this shred of evidence that the young men and women of the Soviet Union some day may be able to stand on a common footing with non-Communists will be pounced on eagerly.

It is at least an excuse to reaffirm what could so easily be true if the Kremlin would let it be true—that Russia would need have no fear of war if it adopted a policy of non-interference with other societies.

To whatever extent a policy of interference is caused by a psychology of inferiority which causes the Communist dictatorship to over-assert itself, a remedy could come with time. Russian athletes, giving a good account of themselves at Helsinki and winning and losing gracefully, might teach even their governing officials a few lessons about adjustment in a competitive world.

Only two Americans in 100 have singing voices, according to statistics. The 98 are the ones who sing in the bathtub.

When you run into a fellow who has a proposition that won't hold water, he's a sponger.

It wouldn't be so bad if careless drivers just hit telephone poles, instead of insisting on moving targets.

A young couple, arrested for kissing in public, were released when the girl broke into tears. She simply put over a fast bawl.

New Wage Board

By DAVID LAWRENCE

It Should Stick To Law, Avoid Schemes

Out goes the old Wage Stabilization Board and in comes a new one. To the public this may seem like a simple transfer of personnel from one board to another of the same power.

But the change is fundamental. It was ordered by Congress and represents a distinct reprimand and repudiation of a piece of trickery that began under the "New Deal" and has been continued under the "Fair Deal." It consisted of a scheme whereby the vaguest phrases of legislation were utilized to grab administrative and at times judicial power.

Congress never gave the old Wage Stabilization Board authority to mix into labor disputes and hold a gun at the head of the disputants. But that's what the board did in the steel controversy, and thus it brought on one of the most costly strikes in American history. The latest effort of the head of the Office of Price Stabilization to place the blame on the steel industry is another one of the devices used hereabouts to confuse the issue. For the truth is that the price administration's position on prices never was coordinated with the wage side and nowhere was there any leadership exercised such as could have averted the strike.

PERHAPS the most glaring blunder was when the Wage Stabilization Board gave the unions more than they asked for and deliberately ordered industry to accept the "union shop." This was not at all necessary in order to perform the board's functions of "stabilization." It could have easily kept out of the "union shop" controversy and confined itself to wage issues.

The steel strike was the direct result of the use of government power to play the game of one side in the dispute. This sort of intrigue is what undermines faith in government boards. Thus today the new Wage Stabilization Board is to be comprised of new "public members" who have to be confirmed by the Senate. Will the "public members" really be disinterested and neutral, or will they be drawn from that group of college professors who have always identified themselves with the labor-union side?

The new statute requires that there be industry members and labor members, but the public members will have the controlling voice. Most disputes that come up for decision relate to wage rates and similar questions. Congress doesn't want the new board to meddle in strictly labor-management controversies on non-economic issues, and, if these are infringed upon once more, it is certain that further restrictive action will be forthcoming.

THE WHOLE tragic handling of the steel dispute by government furnishes a lesson in what can happen when prejudice and bias on the part of government officials leads union leaders to believe that they can do as they please and will be supported by the administration.

President Truman seized the industry and went to Congress to ask authority to settle the dispute. He said in a message to Congress that he would do what Congress told him to do. But when Congress requested him to use the Taft-Hartley Act, he declined to do so, offering as an excuse that the union had waited more than 80 days already.

But this wasn't the main reason why the union leaders didn't want the law applied. They were afraid of something else which is embodied in the Taft-Hartley Act—a provision requiring the workers to vote on the latest and best offer of management. Had such a vote been taken—and it has to be done by secret ballot—it might have shown the workers to be in large part out of sympathy with their leaders in the steel union.

SO THE ADMINISTRATION, after conniving last December with the steel-union leaders not to impose the Taft-Hartley Act's provisions, then permitted the Wage Stabilization Board not only to grant higher wages than were requested but to inject the union-shop requirement in addition.

The strike settlement revealed a clear defeat for the union and for the administration which supported it. The union didn't get compulsory unionization or the rate recommended by the Wage Stabilization Board. The industry got its price increase. The workers could have done better without the strike, and they would not have lost hundreds of millions of dollars in payrolls. Maybe the new Wage Stabilization Board will stick to the limits of the law and will not become a party to the schemes hatched heretofore where by government uses its influence for the benefit of labor-union leaders. Congress will be watching.

Ever since Big Four talks on an Austrian treaty started in 1947 the U. S. State Department has agreed that the final signed papers should be deposited in Moscow.

The arrangement, however, has become generally known only recently. The news has been met with shocked surprise by leading European exiles here. They fear the effect on Europeans.

Traditionally, treaties are deposited in the capital of one of the signing nations. The official papers which pledge 60 nations to the United Nations, for example, are kept in Washington.

Moscow is the depository for the World War II treaties with Hungary, Romania, and Bulgaria, all now virtually parts of the Soviet Union, and the Russians demanded that Moscow be the guardian of an Austrian pact too.

U. S. and Austrian negotiators feel that if a treaty can be signed, moving foreign troops out of Austria, it will be unimportant where the agreement is filed.

European exiles feel different. For example, George Dimitroff, former leader of the Bulgarian peasant party and now secretary of the International Peasant, says:

"Granted, it will be a seeming victory for the west if the treaty moves the Red troops out of Austria."

"But there will be other results. For one, it will seem to many Europeans that the Russians have advanced a step, and Washington has lost, if Moscow becomes the guardian of the treaty. This is important on a continent where many frightened little people watch such straws in the wind to guide how they vote."

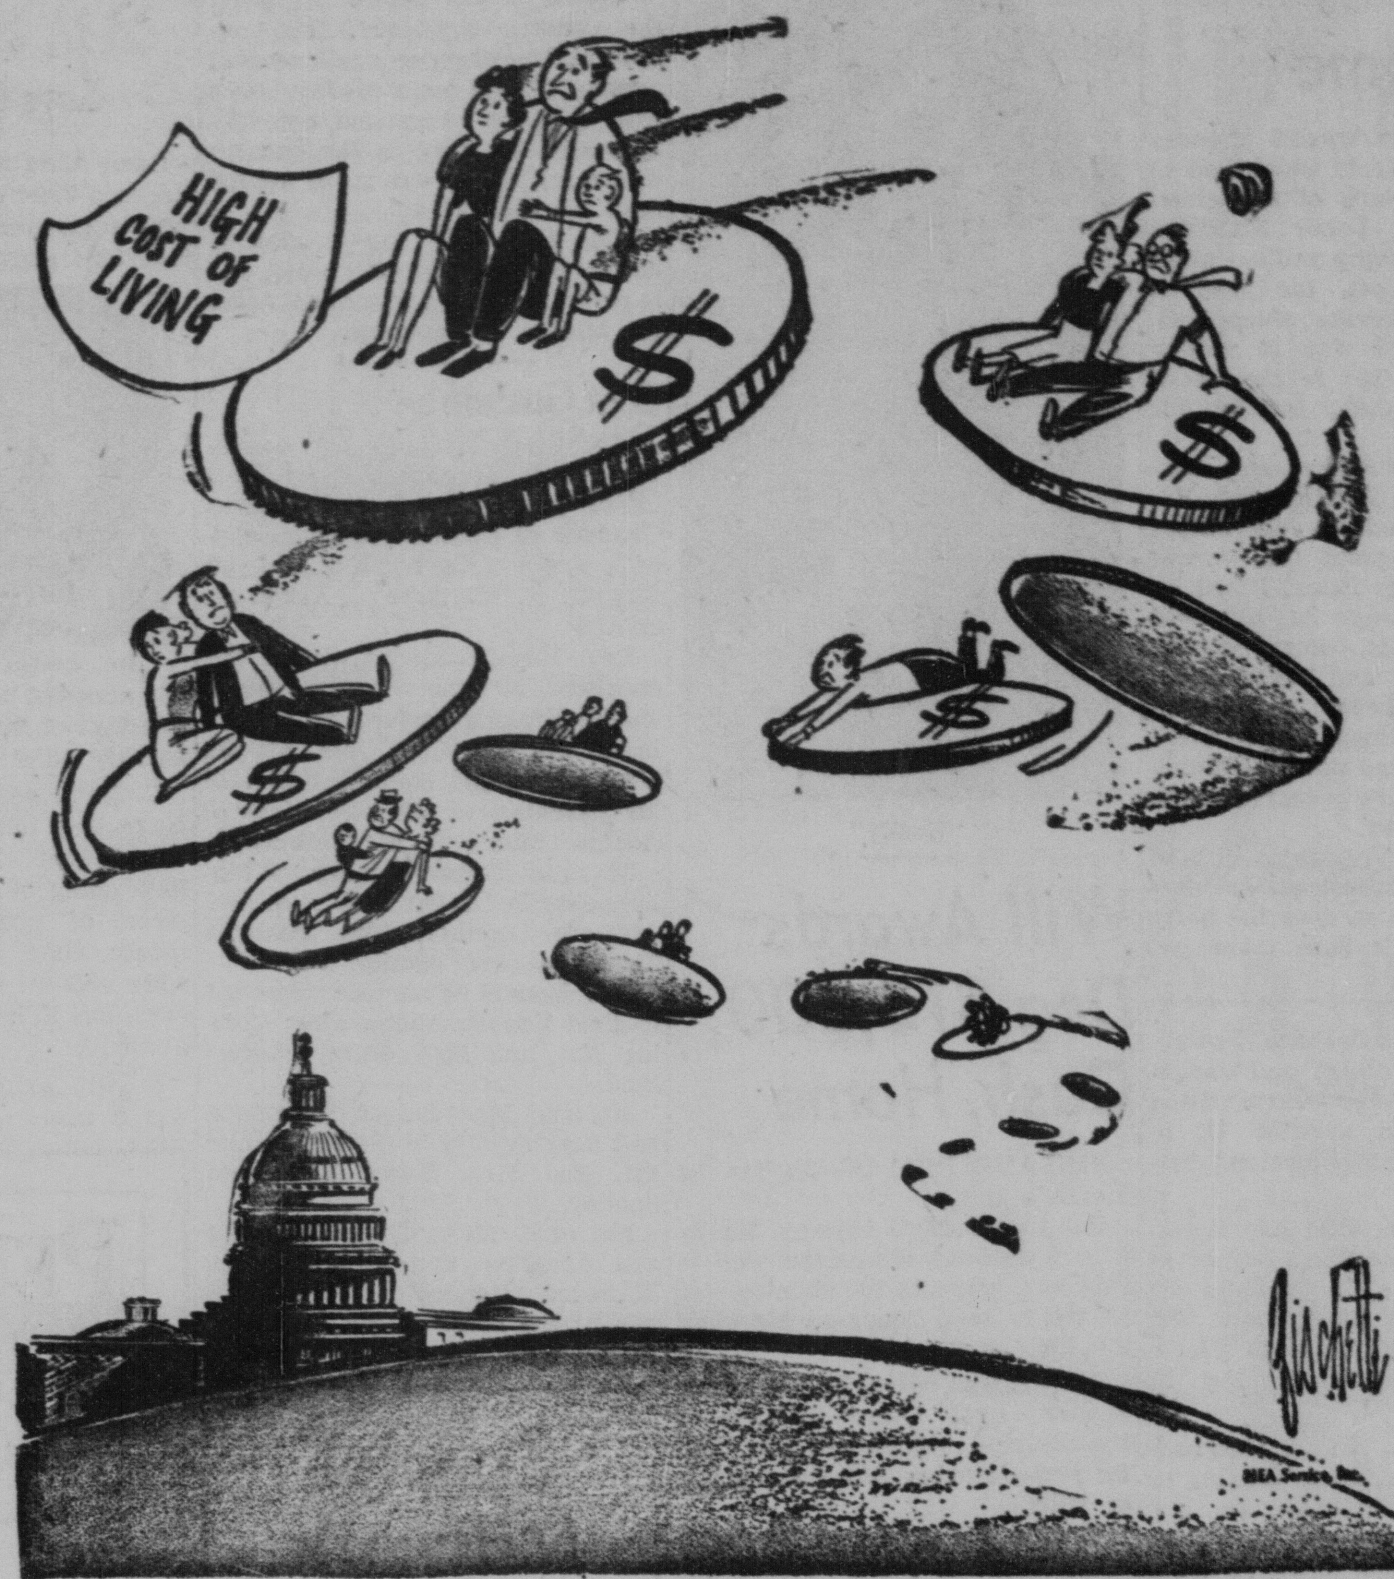

"Further, the Russians will use their guardianship in their own peculiar way. It will be easy for them to create a 'disturbance' in Austria. Then, quite likely, Moscow will reason that since the Soviets are the guardian of the treaty they must also be the guardian of the peace. That is all the Kremlin needs as a reason for moving further into Austria."

"Personally, I can't believe that getting Red troops out of Austria will be much of a victory. The Russians will simply leave behind them thousands of agents in civilian dress, just as they did in Bulgaria, and then Austria's troubles will really begin because the Western Allied troops will also be gone, and the Red agents will be much freer to move around the whole country than they are now."

"Further, this agreement by Washington to deposit the Austrian treaty in Moscow is going to look to a lot of people as though the West had agreed that Austria is in the Russian orbit."

Stanislav Mikolajczek, former premier of Poland, who had to flee to save his life, doubts there will ever be an Austrian treaty. He says: "Austrian oil is too important for the Russians. They won't leave

An Explanation of Those Washington Saucers

People, Food And Metals

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

The world is filling up, in spite of wars, epidemics and accidents. The birth rate increases in most countries. Furthermore, in many parts of the world, the shift is constantly taking place from farm to city, from raising food to industrial labor. In cities, an increasing number of persons, particularly women, change their social habits by becoming employed in the service industries, as saleswomen, stenographers, laboratory technicians, nurses, etc. These shifts of population are not in the high standard of living countries; they occur in China and India as in the United States and Great Britain. They not only affect the processes of earning a living but also social relationships, particularly the institution of the family.

PERHAPS for a quarter of a million years, man's main business was hunting for his food. The greatest advance, before the current century, was the domestication of plants and animals, perhaps 8,000 to 10,000 years ago.

The invention of the tin can, cold storage, vacuum packing and the deep freeze are among the many processes which freed the individual man from the need for hunting and storing food. In recent years, even farmers industrialized themselves into one crop manufacturers and bought their beans in a chain store in the nearest town.

Shelter and clothing have similarly improved, although not as rapidly as the food supply. Shelter somehow has not caught the human imagination at its best, so that housing continues to be wastefully produced not only in big cities but in villages and rural areas. The thatched roof and mud hut are vestiges of lack of materials.

Information from Washington that the Air Force has taken its head out of the sand and is going to find out what's flying through the air besides airplanes must be taken with a grain of salt.

The Air Force is in the grease on the flying-saucer situation. If it fails to come up with an explanation, it will have millions of critics on its back. They will be panicky critics, moreover.

That is only half the grease the Air Force is in—potentially. Suppose it finds out what is making those significant blips on radar screens and is faced with the gritty necessity of reporting they are what a great many cautiously speculative people are guessing they are—evidence of space ships which cannot be explained by anyone on the earth.

If the Air Force announced that, the consequences would be incalculable. They would make the presidential announcement that the Soviet Union had exploded an atomic bomb sound like a minister announcing the Last Mile class would have its regular bake sale in the church basement. Interplanetary travel would be an unprecedented experience.

A new dimension would have been added to the human outlook. Here is the significant thing about the flying saucers reports. The only way they can be heard with equanimity is to laugh them off, which is what nearly everybody has been doing.

The instant the reports cease to be a subject for mirth and become a subject for speculation, fun flies out the window.

A fellow begins to ask himself why he should think the human race, which has been talking about space ships, should be so much smarter than anyone else who might exist in the universe that and transportation; but they exist in many parts of the world. The huge tenement of the city imprisons the human being in housing of inadequate sunshine and fresh air.

Nevertheless, in spite of two wars and an increased population, more human beings are living in more comfortable homes in the 20th than in the 19th century.

The increase in population of the world during this century has been about one per cent per year. Students of the problem speculate on how many people the earth can take in relation to available acreage for the raising of food. Humphrey Humphreys, of the University of Birmingham, concludes that under present circumstances, the maximum world population could be 8,600,000,000 human beings, which would be nearly four times our present population.

ALL THE FIGURES have one fallacy; they do not relate man to the supply of metals, such as iron, copper, tin, etc. Our civilization materially is built on steel. In the United States, we are rapidly consuming our supply of high grade ore and are beginning large-scale imports of ore from Canada, Chile, Venezuela and other countries. Copper is being imported from other countries.

As the metal supply of a nation gives out, the country becomes increasingly dependent upon imports, and unless a way is found to export commodities more than or equal to the imports, the standard of living must go down. This is Great Britain's principal economic trouble at this time.

The national industrial conference board has recently issued a study which shows what can happen to countries. It deals with the work-time required of an individual for him to be able to buy the food that he and his family consume.

Taking the United States as a base, with an index number of 100, the fact appears that it takes an American, who receives the highest wages in the world, less hours of work to gain the purchasing power of food. The comparative figure for Great Britain is 153.8; for West Germany, 238.1; for the Netherlands, 256.4; for Italy, 384.6; for Soviet Russia, 555.6. In a word, Russia has to give more than five times as many work hours to get the same amount of food as an American worker does.

IF THE POPULATION continues to increase, it is likely that food specialists will find means to develop new and superior foods, to improve the strains of grains, vegetables, fruits and edible animals. But they cannot do anything about metals. Once they have been consumed, they are gone, except for the remainders used as scrap. Whether atomic fission and the art of plastics will save us, it is, at this stage, impossible to say.

But this stands out: Two wars and a continuing preparation for war are reducing the metal resources of the United States, forecasting peril to an increasing population.

Lost—Script for disappearing act and "Vanishing Man" routine somewhere between July 20 and July 26. Last seen in the late afternoon of July 25 in a badly torn and wrinkled condition but still recognizable. Reward. Address "Adlai, Chicago, Ill."

Notice—Will persons who witnessed sudden and ruthless assault on gentleman in coonskin hat on business trip to vicinity of stockyards, during which he was exposed to unnecessary roughness by flight of friends, notify the undersigned? No prosecution or legal suits contemplated. Merely wish verification of some new observations on crime in America which had escaped me during all previous investigations. Estes K.

Gentleman from the old South manhandled on trip to far North would appreciate hearing from kindly friends, expressing sympathies and giving opinions on the old issue: "Did he fall or was he pushed?" Russell, General Delivery, Estes K.

Personal—Yoo hoo, Miss Democratic Party! Grateful for kind words and flowers. But still cognizant of fact you threw me down stairs. Love you as much as ever but know when I am crossed up. Alben.

For Sale—Owner of large and costly supply of scenery, stage paraphernalia, props, costumes, etc., including set of log cabins, upon which no expense was spared, original video program, scripts, etc., is anxious to dispose of same at once. Has no further use for same. Phone, write or wire, Bob Kerr, Oklahoma, R.F.D.

Governor Stevenson said he would shoot himself if nominated, but the parliamentarian has ruled he can't do it without a two-thirds vote.

We still can't make out who got the roughest treatment, King Farouk or Estes Kefauver. . . . It seems to have been Estes. . . . "General Bey shook hands with the king and gave him a military salute as the bands played," the papers say. "As Farouk waved his naval cap 21 guns were fired." . . . The Egyptians at least know how to say "Get Lost" with flowers.

WE UNDERSTAND that Frank Costello says that idea got nothing from him except his fingertips, and that everything is now even since the Democratic convention telecast showed Kefauver to be all thumbs.

One nice thing about the Olympic Games is that nobody holds up a contest to demand that the delegation be polled.

A convention of jewelry men took over after the Democratic convention ended. At last reports they had been unable to find any superlatives for precious jewels that had not been used by the politicians in describing politicians.

Farouk, losing his kingdom, probably muttered, "I should have quit when I was ahead." Sailing away, he possibly added, "I never should have put up the throne on that last spin."

In Adlai Stevenson you have the outstanding novelty of a Democrat who was offered something without working for it and who didn't want it.

Governor Stevenson played no part in athletics when a Princeton student. This was perhaps due to the fact that there was no way to score a touchdown while standing under a cold shower with one's back to the stadium.

A Massachusetts man whose job is erecting "stop" signs was arrested for passing a "stop" sign. We nominate him for inclusion with the mayor who does 60 miles an hour through his own 35-mile speed limit regulations, the judge who lets a drunken driver off with a suspended sentence and the police chief who shouts, "The speed laws must be enforced" and steps aside to let a road-hogging truck driver pass with the speed of light.

Robert Kerr announces that he will go oil-out to support the Democratic ticket.

Ohio GOP Backs Voluntary FEPC

Long Platform Seeks Wide Voter Appeal

COLUMBUS, O. (AP)—Ohio Republicans Thursday adopted a platform that endorsed non-compulsory FEPC, a broad highway construction program and a reorganized civil service system.

The 13-page document was tailored to the broad aim of getting votes from all facets of the Ohio economy—farm, labor, school and racial groups.

It contrasted sharply with the 1950 GOP platform that ran a scant 190 words.

The platform also endorsed the entire Republican slate, from president down to local offices. It praised the accomplishments of the last Republican-dominated general assembly.

The most controversial plank was that on civil rights. Representatives of labor and racial groups had asked the platform writers to endorse a compulsory fair employment practices act. The Ohio Manufacturers Association and the Ohio Chamber of Commerce opposed such a move.

There was some talk that the non-compulsory FEPC plank might draw opposition from the convention floor. But when it came up for adoption there was no talk against it. The plank says:

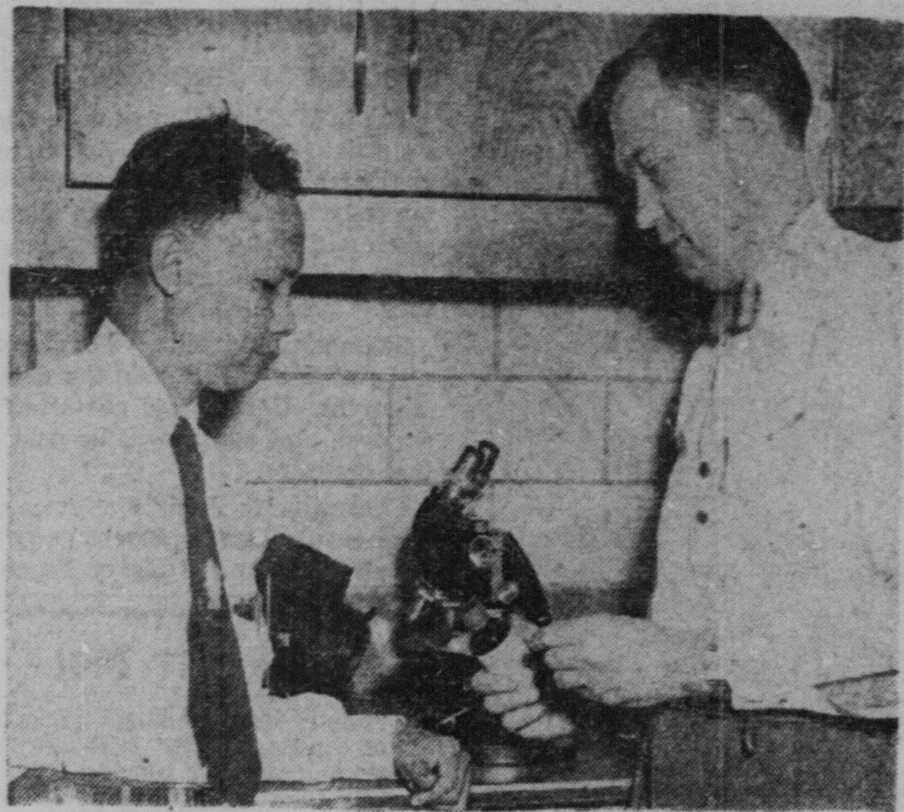

"The right of equal opportunity to work and to advance in life should never be limited because of race, creed or color. We pledge ourselves to promote the enactment of legislation designated to encourage fair employment practices."

The GOP document took no stand on calling a convention to revise Ohio's constitution. This issue, to be voted on at the November election, has been opposed by farm and industrial groups.

It outlined a major highway improvement program, which no doubt would need additional money. But nothing was said about new or increased taxes to get the money.

Here are the other things the platform endorsed:

Highway—A six-year construction program to correct highway deficiencies. This would include widening and resurfacing present roads and adding extra lanes on hills for passing trucks. Also the Republicans want the State Highway Patrol and the Bureau of Motor Vehicle hicles moved to a new department of highway safety.

Agriculture and conservation — Intensified farm research and a sound soil conservation program, including water pollution control, enforcement of strip mining laws, and control of Lake Erie shore erosion.

Education — Laws to encourage young people to enter the teaching profession—apparently by increasing minimum starting teacher salaries. Also approval of local communities before school districts can be consolidated to bar "injurious" revocation of school charters.

Public welfare—Action to protect society from the criminally insane, adequate care for the mentally ill and a return to normal life of those who are curable. Continued attention to problems of the needy aged, needy blind and handicapped persons. Public assistance programs open to public scrutiny, penal reforms to relieve overcrowding and effective probation supervision.

Labor—A $25 minimum weekly payment for all permanently and totally disabled industrial workers and changes to speed workmen's compensation claims. (Some disabled workers now receive less than the minimum). A complete safety code with trained inspectors to enforce it. Free training for injured workers needing it to earn a living.

Communists—Continued cooperation with state and federal agencies to expose Communists and defeat their aims for world domination.

Local governments — Fewer restrictions on tax levies for local governments so they can raise

Fashions for Children

Going back to school may be a lark for the college girl, but it's a real trial to the small fry, whether she's returning or just getting started.

That's why, for the small girl on her first day at school, a dress that's fun to wear, in which she feels pretty, is a great aid to morale. It will, just as in the case of her big sister, give her confidence and help her to get through the day with ease.

The little girls shown here have been dressed by their mothers according to this very sound principle. Small girl (left) wears a green cotton by Kate Greenaway that includes some gentle apple-polishing in its design. The bodice has an appliqued "For Teacher" and two red apple pockets. Crisp white pique is used to band the puffed sleeves and form the collar.

Her friend (center) wears a quilted button-on bib jumper from this same house. It's in school-book print cotton over a simple, short-sleeved blouse.

Small artist (right) likes separates. She wears a three-piece outfit that combines pleated plaid skirt, white blouse and red pique sleeveless jerkin that is gathered at the back waistline by means of a buttoned belt.

Columbiana To Play E. Liverpool Sunday

COLUMBIANA—The American Legion junior baseball tournament for Ohio teams of the age of 17 and under, sponsored by Firestone Post of Columbiana, will open with a doubleheader at Firestone Park at 1:30 p.m. Sunday. All games will be played at Firestone Park, and there will be a game every evening next week, with the tournament concluding Aug. 10. Original plans were for the tournament to begin Saturday, but it was changed to Sunday. Don Young of Firestone Post is tournament manager.

Four teams are entered for the tournament, Toronto, East Liverpool, East Palestine and Columbiana, but more may be added before the opening games. In the first game Sunday, Columbiana will play East Liverpool, and in the second, East Palestine will play Toronto. Games during the week will be at 6 p.m. At the conclusion of the tournament, it is planned to have an exhibition game between Mahoning and Columbiana County little league teams of the 8-12 ages.

Trophies for the tournament are being provided by the Firestone Tire & Rubber Co. of Akron. They will go to the winner, the runner-up and the most outstanding player.

TROOP NO. 1, Girl Scouts, organized several years ago by its sponsor, Firestone American Legion Post Auxiliary, has been divided into Troops 1 and 2, both continuing under the sponsorship of the auxiliary. Mrs. Mildred Kyser is leader of Troop 1 and Connie Griffin of Troop 2.

Because of its growing membership, the original troop became too unwieldy for one leader and was divided a couple of years ago into groups A and B under Mrs. Kyser and Miss Griffin, and have been made separate troops.

Miss Griffin had a breakfast in Firestone Park, Wednesday morning, followed by a swimming party in the park pool.

Indians Score 8-2 Victory Over Boston; Still 3 Games Back

Lemon Pitches Twelfth Win

Tipton Cracks Homer; Gives Coach Credit

CLEVELAND (AP) — Still three games out of first, Cleveland's Indians open a four-game series tonight with the Philadelphia Athletics, just about the hottest club in the American League right now.

The A's won 21 games and lost 13 during July, climbing from seventh to fifth place. Cleveland had a 19-12 record for last month.

Mike Garcia, who pitched shutouts in his last two starts against Philadelphia, will open for Cleveland tonight, opposing Sam Zoldak, a former Indian. Garcia holds a 14-7 record and Zoldak, is 0-5.

Catcher Joe Tipton cracked a two-run homer in the eighth to break a 2-2 tie Thursday when the Tribesmen won 8-2 over the Boston Red Sox for a 2-1 edge in the series.

Although coaches usually don't come in for too much praise, Tipton was quick to give third-base Coach Tony Cuccinello credit for the blow.

"Tony called the pitch," said the happy Tipton. "All I had to do was swing the bat."

The victory marked Bob Lemon's sixth triumph in his last seven starts and brought his record up to 12 wins against eight losses.

To clinch the game after Tipton's homer the Tribesmen then pushed over four more runs before the inning ended. In the rally were singles by Lemon and Harry Simpson, a double by Al Rosen and Larry Doby's triple.

The Tribesmen had gone ahead in the first inning when Barney McCosky led off with a double, took third on a wild pitch by starter Ralph Brinkner and scampered home on Doby's fly.

Del Wilber put the Red Sox in the lead in the fourth with a homer, scoring Dick Gernert, who had walked. The Indians tied it up in the fifth. McCosky walked, stole second, went to third on Bobby Avila's single and scored on Doby's infield out.

Minor League Team Cops Record—Of A Sort

MOULTRIE, Ga. (AP) — Minor league baseball records—as unkept as the shine on a catcher's shoes—fall to show which team was shut-out the most consecutive times. But Moultrie of the Class D Georgia-Florida has a bid in for that record.

Moultrie went scoreless Thursday

All-American Golf Tourney In 2nd Round

By JERRY LISKA

CHICAGO (AP)—Dick Mayer, former Army tank sergeant who is seeking his first major golf title, today led a par-crunching array of pros into the second round of the $30,000 All-American tourney.

Mayer, 28-year-old St. Petersburg, Fla., pro of three seasons, shot a seven-under par opening 65, to take a one-stroke lead over national PGA Champion Jim Turnesa.

Turnesa in turn, had four 67 shooters on his heels after yesterday's opening drive over Tam O'Shanter's gay acres which produced 45 scores under par 72.

You could take your pick among solid performers and dark horses as to who might be winging ahead when the 72-hole chase for top prize of $3,420 ends Sunday.

Knotted at 67, two strokes behind Mayer, who whipped in eight birdies yesterday, were Ted Rhodes, hunting the first top-draw win by a Negro; Bob Gadjia, another lesser light; and two well-tried hands, the incomparable Sammy Snead and Johnny Palmer, recent Canadian Open winner.

There were four 68 gunners, including Defending Champion Cary Middlecoff, 1952's leading money winner; Ed Furgol, the crook-armed fairways Trojan; Henry Williams, 1950 national PGA runner-up; and Jack Isaacs, in his first turn.

Ten players were bunched at 69, among them the year's second top money-winner Jack Burke, and gay blade Jimmy Demaret. A whopping group of 20 players were under 70, and anyone of them could walk off with the big money.

In the concurrent All-American amateur, Frank Stranahan of Toledo, Ohio, who nearly has a monopoly on the title, was a two-stroke leader with two under par 70.

Stranahan, seeking his fifth straight title, was chased by John Guenther, Jr., Reading, Pa.; Richard Norton, Grand Rapids, Mich.; and Jim McKeighen, Hobart, Ind.

Still a third place of the All-American merry-go-round, the Women's Open, was paced by Betty Jameson, charming San Antonio, Tex., pro. Betty's three-under-par 73 gave her a two-stroke lead over National Open Champion Louise Suggs and Betty Bush, also pros.

night for the fifth consecutive time in a 2-0 loss to Thomasville.

The record for scoreless games in the majors is four. Five teams share that undesirable record.

Cincinnati Plight Caused By Pitching

CINCINNATI (AP) — "It all boils down to pitching."

There is the capsule form explanation of the plight of the Cincinnati Reds this year as given by General Manager Gabe Paul.

Paul, sitting it out in the front office while he waits for the Reds to come home from an eastern trip and Rogers Hornsby to arrive and assume his duties as new manager of the club, added:

"Last year our pitching was second in the league in effectiveness. This year only that of the Pirates is worse."

Paul declared he had no worries about how Hornsby will handle the players when he takes over as manager Tuesday.

"No player who hustles will have trouble with Hornsby," Paul said. "And by hustle, I mean Hornsby's definition of the word—not the players."

"I told Hornsby when I hired him that I didn't want any 'new Hornsby.' He told me there would not be any 'new Hornsby.' He said he has been the way he is too long to change now."

After being idle Thursday the Reds' team itself was in Boston today to open a four-game series with the sixth place Braves.

Either Ken Raffensberger or Harry Perkowski was expected to draw the pitching assignment tonight.

RULE RHUBARB — In a game with the Dodgers at Ebbets Field, all four umpires were besieged by Manager Luke Sewell and the Reds after it was decided that Joe Adcock's blow, right along the foul line and deep into left field, was a ground-rule double. The ball hit the left field stands' railing and bounced in. The Cincinnati athletes protested, in vain, that the outfielder should have been credited with a home run.

A's Take 2; Bobby Shantz Wins 19th

By JACK HAND

Little Bobby Shantz, leading candidate for the American League's most valuable player award, looks like baseball's "Man of the Year."

With a dazzling 19-3 record, the little lefty is a sure thing to become the majors' first 20-game winner in '52. Barring a slump he should become the first to win 25 for the Philadelphia A's since Lefty Grove in 1932.

Even the 30-win mark, a target nobody has reached since Dizzy Dean's great performance in 1934, is within reach for the A's still have 50 games to play.

Shantz' 19th was a four-hitter against Detroit, 2-1, in the first game of a double header. He struck out seven and walked only two in outpitching young Billy Hoelt. The A's also took the second game, 3-2, with three in the ninth off Virgil Trucks. Homers by Trucks and Walt Dropo provided the only Tiger runs off winner Alex Kellner.

The twin Philadelphia wins helped tighten the American race a bit. Even the fifth-place A's, eight games back, remain in the race.

Vic Raschi, regaining his old place as New York Yankee ace, won his 10th straight and 12th of the season by a 6-2 score over Chicago to keep the Yanks three games ahead of the Indians.

Washington remained ½ game back of the Yanks by scoring five in the first inning before anybody was out to rip St. Louis, 10-5. Sandy Consuegra, relieving Randy Gumpert in the fourth, won his fifth in a row.

Brooklyn widened its National League lead to six games over New York by knocking off Pittsburgh in two games, 7-6 in 11 innings and 4-1. A walk by reliever Paul LaPalme with the bases loaded gave the Dodgers the first game. Rookie Joe Landrum, just advanced from the Fort Worth farm where he won 15, copped his first big league start in the second game with an eight-hitter.

Chicago went wild to score nine in the seventh and trim the Giants 11-8. Despite an 11-1 lead, the Cubs had to battle to stave off a late Giant rally. Three in the seventh and four in the eighth on Jim Rhodes' grand slam homer made it close.

The St. Louis Cards ripped into Vern Bickford for six in the fifth inning to thump the Boston Braves 8-3. Billy Johnson had two singles in the big inning when 10 batters went to the plate.

Philadelphia is next port of call for the onrushing Cardinals who now are only four games behind the Giants. The Phillies, also red hot, and Cincinnati were idle.

Will Resumes Managership Of Marciano

NEW YORK (AP)—Al Weill steps down as International Boxing Club matchmaker, Sept. 1, to become full time manager of heavyweight contender Rocky Marciano.

With Marciano, unbeaten Brockton, Mass., slugger, ready to challenge Jersey Joe Walcott for the title in September, Weill decided to resume management of the fighter.

The announcement was made yesterday by Jim Norris, IBC President, following a meeting with Weill and Bob Christenberry, chairman of the New York State Athletic Commission.

Weill told Christenberry he wanted to give Marciano the benefit of his many years of experience as a manager and realized he could not do so under state laws while serving as matchmaker.

Marty Weill, Al's stepson has managed the fighter since 1949.

Berri Long Scores Third Golf Upset

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The women's Western Amateur Golf Tournament reaches the crucial semifinal stage today and it will be up to ex-champion Polly Riley of Texas to stop the title surge of a 15-year-old wallflower from West Virginia, Berri Long.

Olympic Stage Becomes Set For Great Windup Program

HELSINKI (AP)—A trio of curvaceous California girls and an 18-year-old Hawaiian miss played the leading roles in the Olympic games today.

Mrs. Patricia McCormick of Long Beach, Calif., winner of the springboard diving title two days ago; Paula Jean Myers, a 17-year-old from Covina, Calif., and Mrs. Juno Stover Irwin of Los Angeles, placed 1-2-3 after four qualifying dives in the women's platform diving competition.

Evelyn Kawamoto of Honolulu won her semi-final heat in the women's 400 meter freestyle swim to lead two of the three Americans into the finals.

Except for these two women's events, things were rather quiet as the Olympic stage was set for tomorrow's big windup program. And, for once, there weren't any broken records.

Miss Kawamoto, who broke the Olympic women's 400 meter swim record in her trial heat yesterday, took the semi-final in the ordinary time of 5:21.3, beating Hungary's Eva Novak. Valeria Gyenge of Hungary took the other semi-final in 5:16.9.

Carolyn Green of Fort Lauderdale, Fla., placed second behind Miss Gyenge in 5:18.3 to qualify for the final. The eight fastest times qualified. Deliana Meulen-kamp of Mill Valley, Calif., who was made a U. S. citizen by a special act of Congress just in time to compete in the Olympics, was left on the starting block when the gun went off and came in sixth.

In the platform diving competition, Mrs. McCormick scored 51.25 points for the four dives, putting her far ahead of Miss Myers, with 44.22 and Mrs. Irwin with 43.60. Two Russian girls were among the first eight.

The early doings had no effect on the unofficial but torrid duel between Russia and the United States for the top place in overall point scoring—a matter not recognized by Olympic officials.

It was Russia by 52 1/2 to 46 1/2 this morning with no events that count for medals—and points—scheduled until afternoon.

Russia's water polo team beat Spain, 4-3, in a losers-half final round game. The U. S. has qualified for the four-man final bracket.

Hungary sent three fencers into the final round of the individual sabre fencing competition. Jose de Capriles of New York, the last American, was eliminated after winning two semi-final bouts.

Indications show that the Salem Golf Club's 25th annual clambake is the largest event ever scheduled at the course as the plans for the Aug. 13 gala day are shaping up.

Last year the course was jammed to the hilt with 144 golfers making the double tour around the nine-hole layout. Invitations to the district courses have already been sent and a huge turnout is expected to be on hand for the clam and chicken supper.

Leontina's loss to Sears last Tuesday night in the Class A League knocked them from the undefeated ranks after an 11-game string. Last season CIO, presently fifth in the loop, had the same number of games in a row before the National Sanitary knocked them off.

Some 120 Salem Little Leaguers will travel to Cleveland Sunday for the Little League parade of teams from all over Ohio. The boys will parade with thousands of other youngsters their age and then be guests of the Cleveland Indians when they face the Philadelphia Athletics in a doubleheader.

The trip is being sponsored by the American Legion, backers of the Little League. However, the Salem Polo Club also had a hand in defraying of expenses for the trip with their benefit polo game last Friday night. Both organizations should be thanked by the people of Salem for their efforts.

Saturday night the Hine Motor softball nine of the Penn-Ohio League will encounter Farrell in an 8:30 game at Kelley Park. The local softball team has been losing some close tilts all year and as a result don't have an impressive record.

However, action is keen and the two teams have had tight battles all year. Farrell is reported to have a newly acquired pitcher who will hurt against the locals Saturday.

The Class B League playoffs are slated to start about the middle of the month and the other leagues will begin just after Labor Day, if all postponed games have been played.

League Manager Ward Zeller said the usual procedure would be followed with the top team of the league meeting the third place nine. The second and fourth place teams will also play in a two-of-three game series. Then the winners of each series will square off in another two-of-three game series to decide the championship team.

Canfield Speedway Program Scheduled

Dick Linder of Pittsburgh, who took over the midweek program of racing at the Canfield Speedway by winning one of the 25 lap features and topping the qualifying time trials with a time of 19:62, will be back Saturday night to try to repeat his performance.

Bob James of Cuyahoga Falls, Bud Boone of Warren, Jim Romine of Youngstown, Wes Crowley of Boardman and Bud Wilhelm of Canfield will also compete in the events tomorrow night.

Hugh L. Burns, former head trainer at the University of Notre Dame, is now chief trainer for the Detroit Lions in the National Football League.

Mickey MANTLE
POTENTIAL GREATNESS, EVEN AT 20, LOOKS EVER SHARPER IN FOCUS AS THE LEGEND THAT WAS JOE DIMAGGIO FADES BEFORE THE MICK'S FEATS IN YANKEE STADIUM.

Striking Out No Longer Bothers Mickey Mantle; Has Confidence That He Can Hit, Drive In Runs

NEW YORK—(NEA)—Most of the Yankees were tugging on their regalia when Mickey Mantle strode up to the dressing room portal. "I overslept," he smiled bashfully, a slight blush tinging his cherubic face.

"Hey, Mick," called Bill Dickey, "come on over here and see your pictures."

Broad-shouldered Mantle, his shirt already shucked, pattered over to the lounge of the dressing room and watched Dickey reel off some movies. Other Yankees drifted over for a glimpse. Mantle in action is always an intriguing sight.

Mantle's boy Branch Rickey says, "has a chance to make you forget every ball player you ever saw." Off the field, however, Mickey has the same humility he brought with him out of Commerce, Okla., one short year ago.

"I still strike out too much," the Mick shook his head. "Maybe I swing too hard. But strikeouts don't bother me any more."

"Last year I didn't care where the ball went, even if it was an infield pop, just so I didn't strike out. Now I don't care how I go out, just as long as I get my hits and drive in runs in between."

How about his switch hitting, which some critics have carpiped?

"Huh," he scoffed. "Last year they told me I was weaker hitting right-handed. The early part of this season I couldn't buy a hit left-handed. I say it's all even up. Of my first 13 homers, I hit seven left, six right."

"It's funny, but my weakness as a left-hand hitter is a high ball, yet when I bat right-handed it's a low ball."

Mantle does all his bunting from the left side. People say with his speed Mickey would hit .450 if he could butt better. He doesn't see it that way.

"I think I bunt pretty good," he smiled with a dimpled line creasing his cheeks. "By dragging them once in a while, I keep the infielders from laying back too far. Then I can hit the ball through 'em."

"I haven't been timed for the 100 since I was in the eighth grade," he drawled, "but I reckon I can do around 10 flat. I did 10.5 back then."

"I still favor the knee I hurt in the World Series, and it might have slowed me a bit. I was running hard. There was a little upgrade and I stepped in a water drain." He showed graphically how his knee buckled, ripping a ligament.

Likes Centerfield
Mickey likes it in centerfield. "In rightfield the fans were right on top of me," he grinned. "I used to hear those boos, and it used to bother me. In that big centerfield, you can't hear them so well."

The 20-year-old and his wife live in an apartment near the Yankee Stadium. During his off-hours, they mostly "go to the show."

"And we have a television set," he added, proudly. "I like New York, to play ball, but I can't wait to get back home."

That's Commerce, in the northeast corner of Oklahoma, lead and zinc mine country. Last year, Yankee officials, somewhat horrified, dragged him out of the mines to report to the Phoenix spring training base.

Confided Mickey, "I'd have

His baseball eminence hasn't altered his sense of values.

"Say," was his friendly parting shot, "I got a sharkskin suit like that, too."

And he said it proudly, no longer the boy who had worried about scrounging up a suit for high school graduation a scant three years ago.

DO YOU KNOW?

People Hold Power Under The Constitution

What Do You Know About the Constitution?

That's a fair question now that the Constitution has been making headlines once more. Questions and answers following are based on "Your Rugged Constitution" by Bruce Allyn Findlay and Esther Blair Findlay, Los Angeles educators, and published by Stanford University Press. The volume, written as an eighth grade text book, is being distributed by large and small business concerns to their employees throughout the nation.

1. Why was the writing of the Constitution of the United States undertaken as late as 1787?

THE ARTICLES of Confederation, started in 1781, showed increasing signs of weakness. Delegates met to revise them; soon they decided to scrap the old.

2. What is the basic concept of the Constitution?

That sovereign power rests with the people.

3. What are the three main branches of federal government?

The legislative, executive and judicial.

4. Why are terms of members of the House of Representatives limited to two years?

It is part of an effort to keep members of the house close to the people they represent.

5. What is the relation of the federal census, taken every 10 years, to the House of Representatives?

It is designed to avoid disputes over the number of representatives a state may send to Congress. States are informed after each census how many Representatives they are entitled to.

6. Why is the requirement for the election of two senators from each state contained in a clause which is part of "The Great Compromise?"

Because smaller states were afraid they would be dominated by heavily populated states. Equal representation in the Senate is a check against domination of smaller states by larger ones.

7. Why is the Senate sometimes called "The House that never dies"?

BECAUSE Senators serve six-year terms, and only one-third of the Senate seats must be filled by elections every two years.

8. How are impeachment proceedings handled?

The House of Representatives

IS IT CONSTITUTIONAL? is a modern question which points to the durability of the instrument forged by early-day statesmen (above) who sought a means to link the 13 original states of the United States (right) in an enduring union. Now 48 states work under the Constitution.

alone can bring the charges. The Senate has the sole power to try the accused official.

9. Why does the Constitution set dates on which Congress shall meet each year?

Because Kings or their appointees had sometimes forbidden legislatures to assemble or had refused to call them into session.

10. What jobs are closed to a Congressman by the Constitution?

Appointment, during his elected term, to any job he may have helped create or whose salary has been increased during his time in office.

11. Where do bills for raising revenue originate?

In the House of Representatives; so that the people every two years could vote out of office Congressmen who don't handle tax bills the way the voters think they should.

12. Why does the Constitution limit the use of money appropriated for military purposes to a period of two years or less?

THE MAKERS of the Constitution were determined that the military establishment should be under control of Congress.

Atomic Engine

built by General Electric at an AEC-owned site in West Milton, N. Y.

Look for High Speeds

Presumably, the AEC and the Navy have their sights set on atomic-powered surface craft with speeds far above those of present craft.

Atomic-powered ships could not sail the seas forever — like the storied "Flying Dutchman" — because uranium-fueled atomic furnaces must have their ashes dumped, somewhat like a coal furnace at home. And spent fuel would have to be replaced.

But, for all practical purposes, their cruising ranges would be unlimited.

This is an advantage for any kind of a naval or commercial liner but will be particularly advantageous to submarines for these reasons:

1. They'll be able to cruise submerged for indefinite periods, without need of surfacing to recharge batteries.

2. The virtually unlimited electrical supply that would come from an atomic engine would permit use of equipment to continually freshen air for the submarine crew. At present, submariners depend on tanked oxygen which can be carried only in limited supply.

Moscow Claims Wall Street Now Runs Tennessee Politics

WASHINGTON (U-P)—The word from Moscow is that Wall Street has taken over the "Tennessee political machine" and is putting up the money to buy governors, mayors and congressmen.

A Soviet version of Tennessee politics given in a Moscow radio broadcast recorded by United States official monitors said that Memphis Boss Ed Crump runs the whole show for the Mellons and Rockefeller.

The description came from Vladimir Morev, a one-time Soviet news correspondent in the United States, who recently has been giving Russians his version of conditions in various American cities and states.

Dismissing the idea of democracy in American politics as a "demagogic lie," the Russian writer gave this account of how the "machine" buys votes and then sees that they stay bought:

"Money flows in a wide stream into the machine's coffers and into the pockets of its bosses from the funds of Rockefeller and Mellon monopolies, railway companies, and individual industrial magnates. With this money, votes are purchased which elect men needed by these monopolies such as governors, mayors, and congressmen."

"On election day in the town of . . . for instance, the local sheriff sits in the school in the room facing the polling booth. Before him is a pile of filled-out voting forms and another of dollar bills."

"The elector receives one of the former and several dollars and then goes across to the official polling booth where he is handed another, clean voting paper."

"Having sold his vote, the elector drops into the ballot box the form he has received from the sheriff and takes back to him the clear form he has received. Woe to the elector who fails to do this!"

"In another part of the town, in the local courtroom sits the sheriff's wife, protected by his brother and other members of his family armed with revolvers. They see to it that no elector, having sold his vote, tries to deceive them."

Morev said the Crump regime County so figures can be manipulated to control state election results.

the Chicago national committee-man of Illinois, Stevenson's state, and a Chicago political power.

Nixon said Eisenhower knows that his first job in Washington is to clean up corruption. "The others can't do it," he said. He added that Eisenhower would clean the Communists out of Washington.

The California senator said the record of the administration "in the Hiss case alone is enough to disqualify it from being returned to power in Washington, D. C., at the present time."

Nixon referred to Alger Hiss, former State Department official imprisoned for perjury in denying he turned over secret government papers to a Communist agent.

"If you want a change, you have no choice but to vote Republican in November," Nixon cried.

Congressman William M. McCulloch of Piqua, convention chairman, asked the audience for "generous" applause. He explained that broadcast microphones were not placed to pick it up well. Part of the night session also was televised.

Summerfield, in a brief talk, called Ray C. Bliss of Akron "one of the greatest state chairmen in America." Bliss has been credited with turning a strong Democratic tide in Ohio in 1948 back towards the Republican column in 1950.

Bricker described hostilities in Korea as "Truman's war" and said it could have been won twice but for interference from Secretary of State Dean Acheson. "Acheson should be kicked out of Washington forever and a day," Bricker said amid applause.

Charles Taft said he formerly was for his brother for president but that now he is for Eisenhower and Nixon.
